

How, then, can they call on the one they have not believed in? And how can they believe in the one of whom they have not heard? And how can they hear without someone preaching to them? And how can they preach unless they are sent? As it is written, “How beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news!”

—Romans 10:14-15

“Is not this the kind of fasting I have chosen: to loose the chains of injustice and untie the cords of the yoke, to set the oppressed free and break every yoke? Is it not to share your food with the hungry and to provide the poor wanderer with shelter—when you see the naked, to clothe him, and not to turn away from your own flesh and blood?”

—Isaiah 58: 6-7

This we pray...

Lord, you know the needs of the world. Allow believers at Hope Chapel San Pedro to participate in bringing Jesus to the ends of the earth. Break our hearts for those who have never heard your good news. Give us your heart for the poor and the oppressed. Open our eyes that we may see the physical, emotional, and spiritual needs of the broken and lost in this world. Let nothing separate us from hearing your voice, obeying your call, and living out your great commission. Grow us, God. Mobilize us, Lord. Send us, Spirit.

Over the last few years, our Hope Chapel Missions Teams have taken multiple trips to Ensenada, Mexico. Led by Sal Manzella, the teams serve a church by doing building repairs and facilitating vacation Bible school. Recently, HCSP expanded its missionary reach to South East Asia. Bob Carpenter took a team of 12 to the hill tribes of Northern Thailand in late December 2006. The aim of that trip was to explore a potential long-term partnership with Handclasp, a nonprofit group committed to bringing Jesus to the Thai and Karen people in the Northern region. The group built pews, spent time with children, and visited churches. These opportunities, and others like it, are central to believers fulfilling the great commission that God has given us in His Word to Build Hope – In, Out & Up.
